

Team Pastry Australia Application Form

Team Pastry Australia is looking for interested professionals to represent our great nation at the Asian Pastry Cup 2012 in Singapore.

Being a competition within itself, The Asian Pastry Cup also serves as the official competition at which four Asian teams are pre-selected to compete at the World Pastry Cup in Lyon, France.

To be considered for this competition you will need passion, talent, dedication, a strong commitment to the training times and the support of your employer.

Written applications are now open and close 1st December 2010. For your chance to be selected for this great opportunity to represent Australia, please complete and submit the box and checklist below, supplying the necessary forms, along with your written application.

The team will be chosen via written applications with an interview deciding the top ten finalists.

Those seeking to apply should;

- Have at least eight years experience
- Be able to undertake 10 hours training per week
- Be able to dedicate four days training a month at the team training facility in Melbourne
- Be able to attend several week-long training sessions during 2011, under an international training specialist
